CALIFORNIA CHARTER SCHOOLS ASSOCIATION FAQ

[Author's Note: Below is a description published by the CCSA of the requirements set forth in the California Constitution and Codes.]

It is strictly against California law for any public school, including charter schools, to offer religious instruction. Under the California state constitution, all public education must be of a non-sectarian nature and the teaching or funding of any religious or faith based "public" school is strictly prohibited.

Ed. Code 47605(d)(1) states that "a charter school shall be nonsectarian in its programs, admission policies, employment practices, and all other operations."

* Common Schools: "public school[s]" – Blacks Law Dictionary, 9th Edition; the terms "common schools" and "public schools" are synonymous.
